Simplicity Marks Drey-Mosenfelder Wedding

Simplicity marked the service that yesterday united two old and prominent families, when Miss Alma Mosenfelder, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mosenfelder, became the bride of Leo Albert Drey of St. Louis. The ceremony was performed at high noon Sunday in the home of the bride's parents at 820 Twenty-second street, Dr. Eugene Mannheim of Des Moines officiating at the service. There were present besides the bride's parents, her maternal grandmother, Mrs. L. Bauer of Chicago, and the groom's brothers and sisters. The house was simply decorated with spring flowers in great variety that filled baskets and vases in all the rooms. The bride wore a lovely, simple gown of white tulle over white silk tulle, made in round length, and she wore no veil or flowers. A wedding dinner followed the service with covers laid for 14, flowers of early spring serving to trim the table and serving room.

Mr. and Mrs. Drey left during the day for the east for a month's visit, the bride wearing a traveling suit of blue serge with a fancy blouse and a hat to correspond. They will return to reside in St. Louis and will be at home after June 1.

Mr. Drey is a member of one of the prominent and substantial families of St. Louis and is president of the Schram Glass Manufacturing company. His bride is a graduate of Wellesley college and a young woman of much talent and many gifts. Retiring and modest in her disposition, she nevertheless has many friends not only in this city but in the community.

LOHSE-RODDEWIG ENGAGEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Paulo Roddewig of 128 West Seventh street, Davenport, announced the engagement of their daughter Paula, to A. H. Lohse of Bridgeport, Conn. There was a very delightful dinner-bridge given by Miss Roddewig at her home when the coming wedding—of which the date is not yet announced—was made known to a party of a dozen intimate girl friends. The word of the engagement was brought to the guests through cards hidden among fragrant spring violets which were in little gold baskets at each plate. The centerpiece of the dinner table was a mass of golden daffodils and the purple and gold colors found expression in various ways, in the course menu that was served, in place cards and other pretty details of decoration. Covers at the table were laid for 14.

The evening games of bridge gave favors to the Misses Caroline Dennis, Agnes Barofsky and Anna Rahn. Miss Roddewig comes of a well-known Davenport family, her father, Paulo Roddewig being president of the Crescent Macaroni & Cracker company, and the Roddewig-Schmidt Candy company of Davenport.

Miss Roddewig has been her father's assistant in his office since her graduation. Mr. Lohse is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lohse of New Haven, Conn., and is connected with the Remington Arms plant at Bridgeport. He was for a time employed at the Rock Island arsenal, residing in Davenport during his connection with the arms plant at the government post.

CANADIAN JUBILEE SINGERS CONCERT.

A concert of unusual interest and merit will be given at the Central Presbyterian church Tuesday evening of this week by the Canadian Jubilee Singers, an organization that has been in existence for 35 years. No company of jubilee singers secures a return date more easily than this company. Not long ago they sang in the city of London, England, every evening for six consecutive months. Their entertainment is of a high class, but so popular in its character as to appeal to everybody. There are the usual plantation melodies, instrumental solos, readings, duets and solos that one may expect of a company of colored jubilee singers. The concert will be given in the entertainment hall of the church, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. H. E. Curtis of the revisions committee presented certain changes in the bylaws necessitated by the changing of the annual dues, and these were adopted article by article having been suggested at the previous March session.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Philip North Moore of St. Louis, who spoke on "Feminism From a Scientific Viewpoint" following a vocal number, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" (Saint Saens) given by Miss Althea Brown with Mrs. Evian Sargent at the piano.

Mrs. Moore read a paper on the subject assigned her beginning by saying the woman has been the one isolated fact in the universe; the outlook upon the world, the means of education, the opportunities for advancement had all been denied her. Her opportunity came with the awakening of the communal spirit. The feminist movement during the last century has become world-wide, embracing all nationalities and resulting in the organization of women all over the world. The question of where we stand, she said, and what shall be the outcome, the explanation of the advance of women physiologically, are every day becoming of greater importance. "I think there is a message in all these things," she said. "They do not come by chance. Two things have had to do with the changes in women's lives: automatic weaving and the sewing machine. Women had to find something for their leisure hours. The butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker—if you care to use an old rhyme—have invaded the home and taken away with them women's home work. She has followed them in the world of business and women in industries has been a natural consequence. "Feminism," she continued, "is a poor name for so great a work, for the feminist movement properly understood is merely the substitution of new modes of thought, based on ever changing conditions of industry and education." She spoke of the conservation movement wherein women enter so largely in the conservation of the life of the child, conservation of the energy of the women of the land, of the conservation of home life. Women have brought about many laws that insure to them and their children better protection and they are now legislating to make their condition equal with that of men. They aim to make men more virtuous and women more brave, they strive for greater knowledge and scope for greater emancipation from themselves.

Thirty-five new members were received into the club as follows: Mesdames B. F. Adams, George Allen, J. W. Armstrong, Lizzie Beckwith, Miss Zoe Blecker, Mesdames Beatrice Clark Campbell, H. W. Clemann, Charles W. Hedberg, H. H. Hoban, Johanna W. Kehoe, J. W. Kerns, Miss Gertrude Hickman, Mrs. Max Kohn, Mrs. L. Livingston, Miss Marie E. HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What is a good remedy to cure dandruff? What is good for itching scalp? What will stop falling hair? INQUISITIVE.

For a diseased condition of the scalp, I believe brushing is most efficacious. The brush must have long bristles, rather far apart, in order that they shall reach the scalp and the stroke stimulate it.

Also there must be a massage given every night. A tonic put on at the same time is likely to hasten improvement, and a mixture I like is made from a dram of alcoholic tincture of cantharides, half a dram of tincture of capsicum, two drams of nuxvomica, three-quarters of an ounce of cocoa oil and two and a half ounces of cologne. If the hair happens to be heavy with natural grease, one more likely to agree is made from half an ounce of alcoholic tincture of cantharides, three-quarters of rosemary, glycerine and aromatic vinegar, with an ounce and a half of rosewater.

The hair should be combed and brushed thoroughly, not only flat to the head, but putting the brush underneath and drawing the hair loose and free, so that all parts are ventilated. Each stroke must begin on the scalp so the tips of the bristles are felt.

This done, the tresses should be divided into two sections, one-half pinned so that it will not get in the way when the other half is treated. Then some tonic should be poured into a saucer and applied with a soft toothbrush. The hair is again parted not more than an inch from the middle, and with the little brush the scalp line is wet. Another division not more than an inch away is made, that line wet and the hair laid over, repeating the partings and applications until the entire scalp has been treated. This done, massaging should begin. A final brushing is given, and the hair loosely braided for the night.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been married for 15 years and my husband was twice my age when I married. He is now old and childish and cranky while I am still young and fairly good looking. He doesn't allow me to go anywhere or entertain friends, just recently I met a classmate of mine who has made good in the west and he wants me to leave my husband and marry him. Since my husband offers no happiness and nothing but drudgery should I accept the younger man's offer? UNDECIDED.

When you married you knew that your husband was twice your age and you faced just such conditions as exist now. Your duty is to him, and the only way you can gain happiness is to do your duty. No, my dear, do not give him up in his old age to marry a younger man.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I made a few indiscreet but innocent mistakes in the presence of about a dozen people in our town, and have tried for about a year to live it down by being all that is good and pure. But people still pick on me and the worst of it is my employer and his relatives are the worst ones to hold this against me and continue to find fault and snub me in such a way that my explanation would not help matters any, but would just make things worse. Do you think it is best to continue to live here or would you sell out and try all over again in another town? I should hate to run away, because I do not feel guilty. TROUBLED MRS. G. S.

Your employer wouldn't be apt to keep you if he really thought you had made any serious mistakes. Perhaps he doesn't realize how much he hurts you. Don't take the matter too seriously, and be assured that if you have made any innocent mistakes they will soon be forgotten by all worth while people. If you continue to lead a pure life, I wouldn't leave town if I were you. If your employer makes you utterly miserable, find another place to work.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a gentleman friend who calls on me about four times a week. How shall I entertain him? CRAZY KAT.

The man must find you very entertaining or he would not call upon you four times a week. I should think you could talk, read, make candy and take walks. He ought to take you somewhere at least once a week.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

EASTER EGGS.

To Color Easter Eggs—Some mothers do not like to have their children eat eggs colored with manufactured dyes. Vegetable dyes are harmless, and beautiful are the eggs colored with them. Five cents' worth of saffron will color a dozen eggs a beautiful bright yellow. The juice of parsley leaves makes green by boiling the eggs in it. Coffee, chocolate, cocoa or onion peelings make a rich brown. To make red or pink, drop a little cochineal in the water in which the eggs are boiled. All these colors are harmless and the children can eat all their Easter eggs.

Easter eggs may be beautifully colored by using scraps of colored crepe paper. Wrap each egg in the paper, fold a wet rag around egg and paper, twist tightly and in less than two minutes the egg is the hue of the paper. Two or three colors may be used at one time.

SIMPLE HOME REMEDIES.

For Cold on Lungs—Rub chest with sweet oil, then cover with powdered lobelia.

Cough Mixture—Four cents' worth anise seed, three cents' worth laudanum, three cents' worth essence of peppermint, one pint molasses, one cup water. Mix with warm water.

For Burns—One pint castor oil slightly warmed and beaten to a froth. Add one teaspoon carbolic acid. Cork and use for burns. It gives instant relief.

THE TABLE.

Scalloped Meat—Cup rice before cooking (boil until flaky and tender), two cups cold meat (different left-over meats may be used) put through food grinder. Place in casserole in layers of rice and meat, pour over all enough tomato sauce to cover (a can of tomato soup may be used instead of making a sauce if more convenient). Place bread crumbs on top and bake 45 minutes. Serves six generously.

Potato Souffle—Season two cups hot mashed potatoes with salt, butter and a little minced parsley. Beat in half cup milk and whip with a fork until mixture is smooth. Fold in the whites of three eggs beaten stiff, turn into buttered dish and bake 15 minutes, or until potatoes are brown and puffed, which is the literal meaning of souffle. Cheese is sometimes grated over this dish.

Cream Salad Dressing—In upper part of double boiler heat to a cream yolks of three eggs, one teaspoon dry mustard, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon flour, one-fourth teaspoon paprika (or less of cayenne pepper), two tablespoons sugar, piece of butter size of egg. When smooth add one-half pint either sweet or sour cream, then add slowly one-fourth pint vinegar and whites of th three eggs beaten very fine. Put over hot water and cook to a thin custard. Makes a quart, if eggs are fresh. Does not spoil if kept in cool place.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

Old stocking legs make excellent dust cloths by opening at seam and sewing together until one has the size desired for dust cloth, and then soaking in kerosene, thus making them dustless. They also make excellent holders for hot kettles by folding over to the desired thickness and stitching through a few times. Finish by using a small piece of stocking for hanger and sew at corner.

Handsome Bedspread—At a small cost you can possess a beautiful bedspread. Purchase a 98-cent bedspread and cut this to just fit the top of your bed. Across the foot and two sides crochet a pattern of lace about 16 inches deep, out of carpet warp. Splice corners.

Inexpensive Rugs of Matting. First bind cut edges. Make thick paste of wheat flour, fill matting, wipe off smooth, let dry several days in the sun. Give it two coats of floor paint. Green is a good color to paint it. Old matting treated this way will give good service.

To Remove Spots from Furniture—Take a clean piece of cheesecloth, dip in alcohol and rub on furniture after dust has been thoroughly removed.
